

Chevy Truck Transmissions Now Rebuilt for Sale to Pickup Truck Owners at Powertrain Pros Company

Chevy truck transmissions are now rebuilt for direct sale to owners of pickup trucks at the PowertrainPros.com company. These four and five-speed gearboxes feature most of the builds available from GM that are now rebuilt for sale online.

Jacksonville, Florida (PRWEB) November 28, 2013 -- Automotive transmission replacements are typically part of the expenses that a vehicle owner pays when high mileage or lapsed warranty coverage happens to a vehicle owner. The PowertrainPros.com company sells replacement gearboxes online and is now rebuilding Chevy truck transmissions for the public at <http://powertrainpros.com/rebuilt-chevy-transmissions>.

This new addition to the types of units that this company features inside of its warehouse is expected to help lower the consumer costs that are payable when a transmission purchase is made. These units are rebuilt for a lower cost to assist any owner of a Chevy pickup truck seeking online deals when a unit must be replaced.

The remanufactured Chevrolet transmissions inventory currently announced applies to the automatic and manual transmission assemblies marketed by General Motors in the North American market. These four and five-speed gearboxes include the newest editions as well as models that are now considered vintage.

"We've hired one of the most complete building teams that are working in the automotive industry to supply each of our customers with a like-new Chevrolet gearbox without the MSRP price tag," said a seller at the PowertrainPros.com company.

The trucks that exist in the GM company do include the Silverado from Chevrolet and the GMC Sierra. Many of these vehicles used the same or similar transmission types and the truck units now for sale are expanding the buying options consumers have. Each remanufactured unit that is now being sold on the open market is affixed with a new term of warranty protection.

"Supplying a warranty to each customer is our policy and we've recently extended our coverage to include a two-year length and unlimited mileage plan," the seller included.

These policy changes and inventory announcements are two of the recent happenings at the Powertrain Pros company. The growing inventory mixed with new marketed methods to attract auto parts buyers online have made an impact on the company volume of sales processed. Future inclusions in the company warehouse are expected before the end of the current year.

About PowertrainPros.com

The PowertrainPros.com company rebuilds auto company engines for sale to the public in the U.S. The company staff includes talented rebuilders and sales associates who work in tandem to supply a better resource for buyers of remanufactured transmissions. The PowertrainPros.com company has constructed its website for immediate consumer use when researching pricing and stock information before purchases are processed. The company staff supports all gearbox buyers by telephone and include warranty details with each shipment that is distributed to buyers. Warehouse updates are made on a frequent basis to promote accuracy in inventory.

Contact Information

Andrew Listman

PowertrainPros.com

<http://www.powertrainpros.com>

+1 (904) 701-4550

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.