

Vampire Chopper Builder Breaths New Life Into Custom Art Form

Count's Kustoms of Las Vegas, Nevada designs and builds custom choppers and hot rods, guaranteed for eternity. Ozzy Osbourne, Vince Neil, Chad Kagy and Tim Mcgraw are the first celebrity customers.

Las Vegas, NV (PRWEB) August 6, 2004 -- Count's Kustoms, a Las Vegas custom chopper shop owned and operated by B-Movie horror host, Count Cool Rider, feels like they've been around "forever". The shop has recently gained fame with its appearance on MTV's The Osbournes, for its custom made Ozzy Osbourne Chopper.

For 5 years, Count's Kustoms has been building legions of tricked out choppers and hot rods all with its trademark macabre stylings. The showroom and retail area itself is a sight to see. Located off Highland Drive in the heart of Las Vegas, buyers and the curious who enter the shop will be greeted by the warmest group of builders in the biker community. The facility itself is lined with wall to wall purple velvet, gargoyles overlooking the collection of choppers and a 10 foot rubber bat hanging on the ceiling of the "Vampire Loft". For those looking to take home the experience, the Count's Kustoms offers exclusive merchandise from t-shirts to skulls caps available online at www.countskustoms.com or at the Las Vegas showroom.

A unique quality about this one-stop custom shop is that it designs and builds choppers with a "forward-thinking" mentality in respect to technical innovation and design, not to mention its outward horror/macabre touch.

For 2004, The Count has built choppers for Ozzy Osbourne, Vince Neil, X-Games Star Chad Kagy and Ultimate Fighter, Matt Hughes to name a few. For August 2004, Count's Kustoms can be seen on the cover of Biker Zone magazine (Europe, Latin America) and featured in Barnetts Motorcycle Showcase.

Count's Kustoms can be seen at the upcoming Las Vegas Biker Fest, September 16-19 2004. Be prepared to be dazzled.
