

Allison Tartalia: Singer, Songwriter... Student Driver! 'Ready' for the Road Tour Arrives in Charlottesville on September 5

Allison Tartalia The jazz-folk artist behind the award-winning album, Ready, is hitting the highway and bringing her "Student Driver: Ready for the Road Tour" to the Southeast for a series of intimate, acoustic performances on guitar and piano.

(PRWEB) August 17, 2004 -- Stay off the sidewalks! Allison Tartalia, the artist with the award-winning album Ready, is getting behind the wheel to tour the East Coast for the first time since obtaining a driver's license in July. The jazz-folk artist is hitting the highway and bringing her "Student Driver: Ready for the Road Tour" to the Southeast for a series of intimate, acoustic performances on guitar and piano. She will perform in Charlottesville, VA on September 5 at the Gravity Lounge. (A complete tour itinerary follows).

Tartalia survived her college days in New York City without a driver's license. But as a performing artist, "lugging a digital piano around on public transportation is impractical at best!" says Tartalia, who has extensively toured the Northeast as a pedestrian. Shifting gears and moving south, Tartalia is steering her tour towards Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, and Virginia.

The "Student Driver: Ready for the Road Tour" includes three performances that are a part of the Music for Life fund-raising concert series benefiting the American Cancer Society (ACS). Tartalia and fellow Music for Life concert artists, Vicki Blankenship, Patti Witten and Danielle Miraglia, have also released the compilation CD Music For Life: Volume I, which is available from the online retailer CD Baby. Proceeds from CD sales go to ACS.

Described by The New York Times, as a "singer with a sultry voice", Allison has built a dedicated following in preferred New York locales and she is a popular festival performer. Her musical blend of rock, jazz, alt-folk, and pop receives radio airplay across North America and is met with critical acclaim coast to coast: Chuck Eddy of New York's The Village Voice says, "Wonder of wonders, this native New Yorker's debut CD sounds legitimately more jazzy than folky -- smack-dab in the Laura Nyro/Ricki Lee Jones/Sophie B. Hawkins lineage" and Jason Serinus of San Diego's Update says ". . . a striking, bright voice that sings out with edgy, quirky intensity."

After winning the 2003 OMA for Outstanding Debut Recording - Female, Tartalia signed a distribution deal with Goldenrod Music. Her album is available at independent music stores nationwide. Ready is also for sale at CDBaby.com, Amazon.com, TowerRecords.com, and is now offered digitally for download from Apple's iTunes.

For more information on Allison Tartalia's recordings or for complete tour itinerary, visit www.allisontartalia.com. To request a media kit or to arrange an interview, please call Julia Abrams at Make Haste! Records at (212) 769-6812 or email press@allisontartalia.com.

Ready for the Road Tour Itinerary:

 Denotes performances that are part of the Music for Life fund-raising concert series benefiting the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life program.

Monday, August 23
Moonlight Music Caf  
628 Montgomery Hwy.
Birmingham, AL
(205) 822-1400
7:30 pm / no cover

Wednesday, August 25
Open Eye Caf  
100-C E. Main St.
Carrboro, NC
(919) 968-9410
8pm / no cover

 Thursday, August 26
Level 5 at City Stage
21 N. Front St.
Wilmington, NC
(910) 342-0272
7:00 pm / $12 advance, $15 at door
Music for Life concert benefiting the
American Cancer Society

 Friday, August 27
The Sheraton Grand Hotel, Inn & Marina
100 Middle Street
New Bern, NC
(252) 638-3585
7:00 pm / $12 advance, $15 at door
Music for Life concert benefiting the
American Cancer Society

 Saturday, August 28
The Flip Side
105 South Lombard Street
Clayton, NC
(919) 550-0174
8:00 pm / $12 advance, $15 at door
Music for Life concert benefiting the
American Cancer Society

Monday, August 30
Ashton's Coffeehouse
314 E. Howard Avenue
Decatur, GA
(404) 378-6310
8:00 pm / no cover

Thursday, September 2
The Sentient Bean
13 E. Park Avenue
Savannah, GA 31401
(912) 232-4447
8:00 pm / no cover

Friday, September 3
The Evening Muse
3227 N. Davidson Street
Charlotte, NC
(704) 376.3737
7:00 pm / no cover

Saturday, September 4
Wine Up
3306-C N. Davidson Street
Charlotte, NC
(704) 372-2633
9:00 pm / $5

Sunday, September 5
Gravity Lounge
103 South First Street
Charlottesville, VA
(434) 977-5590
8:00 pm / $5

Contact Information

J. Abrams

MAKE HASTE! RECORDS

<http://www.allisontartalia.com>

212-769-6812

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.