

Central U.S. Supermoto Championship Season Announced

Superbikers2 and Gateway Supermoto are pleased to announce the creation of a new Central U.S. Supermoto Championship series for 2005. With six championship classes and nine scheduled events, supermoto riders from across the Midwest will battle for top honors in a seven month quest for the newest motorcycle racing title: Central U.S. Supermoto Champion.

(PRWEB) March 9, 2005 -- The new Central U.S. Supermoto Championship series is scheduled to consist of six events at the Briggs & Stratton Motorplex at Road America outside of Plymouth Wisconsin, and three events at the Mid State Kart Club in Springfield, Illinois. Championship points in each class will be totaled from each racer's seven best finishes and the championship classes and rules are based on the established Superbikers2 structure.

Hundreds of riders from the entire spectrum of racing experience have participated in events promoted by Superbikers2 and Gateway Supermoto: Stars from flat track aces Rich King and JR Schnabel to supermoto expert Ben Carlson and road racer Aaron Yates, as well as AMA national supermoto competitors, talented amateurs, and complete beginners.

The first event is scheduled for the weekend of April 23rd and 24th at The Briggs & Stratton Motorplex. Complete series rules, schedules, and contact information can be found at <http://www.superbikers2.com> or <http://www.gatewaysupermoto.com>
