

Motorcycle Accessories Retailer Gears Up Newly Redesigned Website

Motorcycle enthusiasts can easily find motorcycle accessories and apparel online now that Harleymon, a leading motorcycle accessories retailer, has redesigned their website with an extended product line and added security.

(PRWEB) March 24, 2005 -- Harleymon Enterprises, a leading motorcycle accessories retailer, has revved up their website to include an extended product line, real time shipping options, and added security. The website is now designed to enhance the shopping experience for motorcycle enthusiasts and to serve as a hub of information listing area events, local clubs, motorcycle links, and more.

Harleymon's new website design is more user-friendly for consumers shopping for motorcycle accessories and apparel as it has added product information and a searchable database. The more secure server and the improved shopping cart are two of the features that have vastly improved Harleymon's retail marketplace. A greater inventory of motorcycle accessories ensures that customers will be more likely to find what they need. Also added to the website redesign are real-time shipping options and the ability for new dealers to sign up as distributors.

While Harleymon is primarily a retail outlet for motorcycle accessories, the website's redesign is boosted by being a valuable information center for motorcycle enthusiasts. Harleymon will begin an online newsletter as a tool for keeping customers in touch with their company and with the product offerings. A listing of nationwide motorcycle shows throughout 2005 in which Harleymon will be featured has also been added to the website. Additionally, numerous links to motorcycle clubs, search engines, auctions, magazines, and service and repair contacts makes Harleymon's website more than motorcycle accessories.

"We are excited about the launch of our newly redesigned website," said Joe Kosoglow, Owner of Harleymon Enterprises. "We are hoping this new step will be a good tool to keep existing customers happy while bringing in new clientele shopping for unique motorcycle accessories and apparel."
