(PRWEB) May 9, 2005 -- San Francisco, CA (PRWEB May 9, 2005 - It's hard not to notice the bright yellow motorcycle with a massage table strapped on the back. So who is this guy riding around the Bay Area providing the best massages in town in the comfort of your own home?

It's David Hermele, the founder and chief masseur of Freestyle Massage, the Bay Area's only traveling massage service. And he is coming to a neighborhood near you.

Driving a motorcycle allows me to deliver personalized massage services to clients, and always find a parking place in the city," said Hermele, who launched Freestyle Massage in 2004 after becoming certified as a masseur, earning his CMT from Marin-based massage school Alive and Well. "By bringing luxury spa services to the client's home, I am providing a convenient, comfortable and valuable benefit to busy people who want to get relaxed."

Heal your body. Relax your mind. This is the tagline of Freestyle Massage and is exactly what Hermele intends to do when he visits clients. Freestyle Massage specializes in Thai and Swedish massages, foot reflexology and chair massages. Healing and rejuvenating services are available by appointment only, and sessions last from one to two hours. Hermele arrives 15 minutes prior to scheduled appointments to prepare the room, set up his table and find out what type of massage best suits the client.

"Massage really is for everyone. We all need to take time out to relax, rejuvenate and heal our bodies and minds," explained Hermele, a New Jersey native with a degree in criminal justice and sociology. "It's amazing how good you feel afterwards. With my in-home services, you get relaxed and stay relaxed."

Hermele has a background as a systems administrator for some of the leading technology firms in Silicon Valley. After traveling the world by way of Southeast Asia, Australia and Hawaii, he studied and practiced Thai and Swedish massage. Returning to the Bay Area, Hermele earned his CMT and started Freestyle Massage. When he's not working, Hermele rides motorcycles on and off-road, snowboards, cycles, surfs and dives.
