“We had an outstanding and fun competition this year,” Chris Cuica, Director of Pre-Professional Programs for SAE International, said. “We congratulate the winning schools. But the most important thing to remember is that every student finished as a winner.”

“Of course, this event would not have been possible without the support from our sponsors. I want to personally thank Adient, Honeywell, Bosch, Kia, and Henkel for their generosity and assistance.”

SAE International is a global association committed to being the ultimate knowledge source for the engineering profession. By uniting over 127,000 engineers and technical experts, we drive knowledge and expertise across a broad spectrum of industries. We act on two priorities: encouraging a lifetime of learning for mobility engineering professionals and setting the standards for industry engineering. We strive for a better world through the work of our philanthropic SAE Foundation, including programs like A World in Motion® and the Collegiate Design Series™.
