NEWS RELEASE

NEW ONLINE AUCTION WEB SITE FOR MUSCLE CARS & PARTS

Los Angeles, CA - MJM Online Industries has announced the Grand Opening of its new web site, Musclegcarsnparts.com, an online auction featuring muscle and classic cars and parts. The new site allows car enthusiasts to buy cars and parts online in an auction format, and to place their own items up for sale.

Michael Ash, CEO of the newly formed company, stated "There's been a booming market on the Internet for a couple years now for muscle and classic cars and parts, but the problem has always been that it is a major chore to find what you're looking for. Our goal is to change all that. We want to be the place where it is EASY to find what you're looking for, even rare and hard to find items."

"This site is great for amateurs and hobbyists, but it is also great for professionals who buy and sell for a living. We can provide the professional with an audience and a place to sell his stuff and get a good price. For the buyer, we offer a place where it's easy to find things and get them at a good price" stated Mr. Ash.

The site has been online for a short time, but already has a large number of cars and parts for sale by auction. Musclegcarsnparts.com charges sellers a small fee when they place something on the site for sale, and a small percentage of the final selling price when the item gets sold. The company charges nothing to register and to bid on and buy items listed on the site.

Musclegcarsnparts.com's prices for selling items, which will be in effect through March 2000, are lower than selling on any other auction site on the web currently catering to muscle and classic cars.

"Come to the site and check out what we've got for sale," said Mr. Ash. "Right now we've got some classic Fords, Chevys, Mopars and more. We hope everyone likes it and it's only going to get better in the months to come as we get more and more things up there for sale."

The address for the site is: www.musclegcarsnparts.com
