Buy A Truck.NET (<http://www.buyatruck.net>) a Northwest-based on-line heavy-duty used truck classified service has recently signed an agreement with LaPine Trucks Sale of Cleveland, OH (<http://www.lapinetrucks.com>) to place LaPine's large inventory of construction, highway, and work trucks on the Buy A Truck.NET web site.

Locted in Missoula, Montana, Buy A Truck.NET offers owner operators as well as truck dealers an opportunity to extend the reach of their internet-based marketing through a "trucks-only" classified service. This classified service allows truck buyers and sellers to search for the truck that meets their requirements in an easy-to-use format. The

Buy A Truck.NET web site is focused solely on large, heavy duty trucks, semis (sometime referred to as "tractor-trailers").

"The selection of Buy A Truck.NET by LaPine Trucks Sales shows that the focused approach of the Buy A Truck.NET web site offers truck dealers an affordable web portal to truck buyers they might not reached through traditional methods," commented Wes Kirk, owner of Buy A Truck.NET.

By providing listings of trucks for sale on a national level, as well as offering resources useful to the trucking community such as a vast array of weather links, road conditions and road reports, Buy A Truck.NET web site (<http://www.buyatruck.net>) is a resource truckers and the trucking industry should bookmark in their browsers.
