

InventHelp Inventor Develops Improved Vehicle Cover (DLL-2929)

InventHelp is working to submit the HAIL NO MORE to appropriate companies for their consideration and potential feedback.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) December 27, 2015 -- "I live in an area where storms are always raging," said an inventor from Arlington, Texas. "I am blessed to have a garage, but I know many others who must park their vehicles outdoors where they are exposed to hail. I came up with this improved cover to safeguard their vehicles."

She developed the HAIL NO MORE to protect a vehicle from damage caused by hail stones. This helps prevent dents, dings and scratches in order to avoid costly repair bills. The cover provides added peace of mind and is usable with any vehicle. Furthermore, the accessory is designed for ease of attachment and removal.

The original design was submitted to the Dallas office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers. For more information, write Dept. 14-DLL-2929, InventHelp, 217 Ninth Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15222, or call (412) 288-1300 ext. 1368.
