

‘Save My Spot’ Campaign Educates on Importance of Respecting Wheelchair Accessible Parking Spaces

BraunAbility has developed the Save My Spot parking campaign to help combat the abuse of accessible parking spaces by educating the public and empowering accessible vehicle users.

Winamac, IN (PRWEB) January 28, 2016 -- Recognizing the need to stop handicap parking space abuse, BraunAbility has launched a campaign to discourage the inappropriate use of parking spaces intended for wheelchair accessible vehicles.

BraunAbility’s campaign, named ‘Save My Spot’, is dedicated to teaching the public about why wheelchair users need extra space when they park their accessible vehicles, specifically the striped area next to spaces designated for wheelchair vans. As a company that manufactures wheelchair accessible vehicles, BraunAbility is sensitive to the fact that mobility freedom is instantly taken away when a wheelchair user cannot exit or enter their vehicle because of irresponsible parking of another vehicle.

The ‘Save My Spot’ campaign began with a widely shared video promoting responsible parking around accessible vehicles (<http://bit.ly/1OMBVWt>). Additionally, BraunAbility is offering a limited quantity of Parking Kits, which include Save My Spot sticky note “tickets,” a bumper sticker, two window clings, and a baseball. The kit is free and can be ordered by filling out a web form on <http://www.braunability.com/handicap-parking-save-my-spot/>.

BraunAbility is committed to helping educate the public on this important issue, and all individuals and organizations are encouraged to share the Save My Spot campaign to spread awareness of the issue.
