

Bucks County DUI Attorney, Michael L. Saile, Jr., Announces Acceptance into the National College for DUI Defense

Pennsylvania DUI lawyer, Michael L. Saile, Jr., announces the acceptance of his membership in the National College for DUI Defense.

Doylestown, Pennsylvania (PRWEB) December 22, 2015 -- Michael L. Saile, Jr., of Saile & Saile LLP announces his recent acceptance as a member of the National College for DUI Defense. Mr. Saile's membership in the College demonstrates his commitment to continuing education in DUI defense law. He has met the standards of both competence and expertise, is both licensed and eligible to practice, and has substantial current involvement in the practice area of DUI defense and other related offenses as set forth by the Board of Regents.

Noting an increase in the need for a higher level of training in the unique area of criminal DUI defense, the National College for DUI Defense seeks "to promote the public welfare by providing a higher level of training," according to its mission statement. Mr. Saile believes that education is critical to maintaining practice area competence. He notes that in addition to continued DUI defense practice, acceptance requires all members to attend at least one seminar every two (2) years that is sponsored or co-sponsored by the College or a State.

As a practicing Bucks County DUI lawyer, Michael L. Saile, Jr., Esq. writes, "knowledge and experience in the DUI defense process is critical in order to successfully defend clients who have been charged."

Licensed for over 13 years, Mr. Saile is a nationally recognized DUI defense lawyer and personal injury attorney practicing in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He has been named to the following lists and/or designated:
