

US Fleet Tracking Provides Tips On Using Live And Scheduled GPS Tracker Alerts

US Fleet Tracking gives some valuable information about GPS tracker alerts.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma (PRWEB) May 04, 2016 -- GPS tracker devices are one of the best tools to help fleets become really efficient. This is especially true now, thanks to the 3G network that allows for strong connection and accuracy. Taking advantage of the newest technology around makes it even easier to utilize live and scheduled alerts which are one of the greatest reasons to have GPS tracker devices. Here, US Fleet Tracking provides tips on using live and scheduled GPS tracker alerts so that fleet businesses can get the most out of these devices.

1.) Live Alerts: This feature ensures safety and positively impacts a management team's ability to monitor employee productivity. The live alerts can be set to keep the team back at the office in the loop. They can see locations of all vehicles, when they move, where they move and the way drivers are driving. Updates are rapidly streaming; being every 10 seconds, 5 seconds, or 1 second.

When live alerts aren't necessary, that's when scheduled alerts come in handy.

2.) Scheduled Alerts: With GPS tracker devices, managers say goodbye to tedious to-do lists and reminder checklists, because the system can be set-up to contain reminders and send automated emails or texts when it's time to complete a task. Vehicle maintenance is the biggest reminder alert that comes to mind in regards to scheduled alerts.

The limit to live and scheduled alerts is just imagination.

If a fleet business is in need of improvement and would like something that can ease the burden of stress all around, GPS tracker devices deserve consideration. They are a great investment and make busy afternoons much simpler to handle. Getting information like driver braking patterns, their speeds, vehicle fuel consumption and more is a breeze, as well. With the assistance of daily live and scheduled alerts the hard work will be covered so that business owners can focus on making sure management is working towards other ways to increase business profits while the fleet team is working effortlessly.
