

Modified Logbook Invented by InventHelp Client (OCM-1026)

InventHelp, based in Pittsburgh, Pa., is submitting the ELECTRONIC COLOR GRAPHIC LOG BOOK to companies for their review.

PITTSBURGH, PA (PRWEB) April 06, 2016 -- An inventor, from Fullerton, Calif., thought there needed to be an improved way for truck drivers to record information, so he invented the ELECTRONIC COLOR GRAPHIC LOG BOOK.

The ELECTRONIC COLOR GRAPHIC LOG BOOK provides a faster and neater way for truck drivers to keep track of driving information. In doing so, it eliminates the need to maintain a conventional paper log. As a result, it enhances organization and it ensures that log information is easy to read. The invention features an effective design that is convenient and easy to use so it is ideal for professional truck drivers. Additionally, the ELECTRONIC COLOR GRAPHIC LOG BOOK is producible in design variations.

The inventor described the invention design, “My design offers a more accurate and organized alternative to traditional paper logbooks.”

The original design was submitted to the Orange County office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
