

California's Online Drivers Education Leader, DmvEdu.org Announces Scholarship Winners

DMVEdu.org is happy to announce the winners for the 'Youth Forward' scholarship and essay contest.

Los Angeles, CA (PRWEB) June 07, 2016 -- DmvEdu.org, a top-rated provider of California driver's education online at <http://www.dmvedu.org/>, is proud to announce that it has selected the winners in its 'Youth Forward' scholarship and essay contest. The Youth Forward scholarship seeks to reward a commitment to volunteerism among young people close to driving age (whether older or younger). To apply, applicants needed to submit an essay of less than 500 words in Microsoft Word format. Questions to be answered in the essay included the area chosen for volunteer service, the hours per week, the biggest challenge, the most satisfying experience, and what has been learned by the volunteer engagement.

"We were truly humbled by the essay submissions, and not just from big California cities like Los Angeles, Santa Clara, San Diego or Bakersfield, but from all over the United States," explained Azhar Mirza, Managing Director of DmvEdu.org. He continued, "It was very difficult to select the winning essay and runner-up, and we encouraged interested persons to read the essays online, as many are incredibly inspirational."

To browse essays submitted for the scholarship, please visit <http://www.dmvedu.org/scholarship/?bm=1271>. There, in addition to the winning essays, California teens can also click over to the 'online drivers education course' to learn more about fulfilling the written requirements to obtain a drivers license in California. (DmvEdu.org is a provider of online drivers education in California).

Winning Essays of Youth Forward Scholarship

The winning award went to Alissa Edgington of Schertz Texas, for her volunteer work at The Academy at Morgan's Wonderland. Runner-up went to Marcus Josey of York, PA, for his inspirational work as a role model vis-a-vis high risk Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. To read these essays, one can visit <http://www.dmvedu.org/2016/05/youth-forward-2016-winners-supporting-teen-volunteerism/>.

DmvEdu.org instituted the 'Youth Forward' scholarship opportunity as part of a broad philanthropic thrust for the company. In addition to providing some of the best online drivers education available in California, the company differentiates itself through its 'Charity' program. Persons signing up for online drivers education classes can opt to give 10% of their purchase to a non-profit. Eligible non-profits include both California and non-California organizations. More information can be found at the website by clicking on the 'charity' tab.

About DmvEdu.org

DMVEdu.org is a top-rated website providing California drivers ed online as well as online traffic school programs certified by the California DMV. Many people come to the site looking for an easy way to find California drivers training online or to learn about the requirements and even take a California driver practice test. Certified by the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), the beauty of the website programs is that one can satisfy DMV requirements at the convenience of a computer.

Web. <http://www.dmvedu.org/>

Contact Information

Media Relations

JM Internet Group

<http://www.jm-seo.org/>

+1 5108946169

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.