

www.usedcartests.com Web Site Opens and Teaching Anyone to Buy a Used Car

Golden, CO, May 04, 2003: Table Mountain Innovation, Inc. today announced the opening of their new web site titled www.usedcartests.com. The web site offers free tips to teach any potential buyer how to evaluate a used car. These tips are written for the beginner, require no tools, and don't rely on any prior automotive knowledge.

(PRWEB) May 4, 2003 -- Here's an example tip - when checking a used car just rub your finger inside the exhaust pipe. (First, be sure that the engine is cold!) If your finger appears oily or greasy DO NOT BUY THE CAR. This car is "burning oil" and needs at least $1,000 worth of repair. This simple test takes less than five seconds and can save anyone the distress of expensive repairs.

The web site is completely free, and does not force the viewer to "register" in any way. Also, the web site doesn't contain any annoying "banner" or other advertisements.

These tests are perfect for the single mother or student on a budget who really cannot afford to make a large financial mistake. A few minutes spent at the web site can teach anyone how to spot a lemon or a crooked seller.

Table Mountain Innovation, Inc. also sells a booklet with 50 more of these simple but powerful tests.

Table Mountain Innovation, Inc. is located in Golden, Colorado. The company focus is Engineering Consulting and Product Development.
