

AKA Motorcycle Leathers and Accessories Announces Online Store

New online motorcycle leathers and accessory store with exceptionally low prices. Top-grain leather doesn't have to be expensive.

(PRWEB) June 26, 2003 -- Odessa, TX (PRWEB) July 2003 -- AKA (Alice, Kelly and Amy) are proud to announce the launch and grand opening of their motorcycle leather and accessory online store for biker enthusiasts seeking reasonably priced high quality protective gear.

Co-owner, Alice Wisdom says, "Our customers have come to learn and appreciate that in some cases, our products are of better quality than the products found in walk-in stores that actually sell for more. Some recent customer feedback received includes: "You really have some great leather. I am also glad to see that there are still bike riders that believe in safety!" and "I absolutely love the website, and the prices are great! I am going to refer some of my friends to you, thanks."

Family owned and operated, the AKA in AKAMotorcycleaccessories.com is short for Amy, Kelly and Alice. Alice is mom, Kelly is her son and Amy is his wife. In the summer of 2002, Alice purchased a motorcycle and joined her son Kelly who has been riding motorcycles since he was a teenager. Amy is a cling-on to Kelly's bike.

After discovering how expensive quality protective leather gear and accessories can be, this entrepreneurial trio decided to open an online store to provide reasonably priced products of equal or exceeding value. Styles and sizes are available for men, women and children. Accessories include saddlebags, gloves and more.
