

Leading Supplier of Car Lift Repair Parts, SVI International, Secures Patent for Water Removal System

SVI International, Inc. obtains patent for Aqua-Out, gaining exclusive rights to the innovative water removal system.

Dekalb, ILL. (PRWEB) January 4, 2010 -- Leading supplier of repair parts for automotive lifts, SVI International, Inc., has recently announced its patent approval for the Aqua-Out, the first water removal solution used to prevent corrosion and damage to cassette-style vehicle lifts. By securing a patent for its original product, SVI gains exclusive rights to the Aqua-Out, prohibiting others from making and selling the product.

"The Aqua-Out has been patent-pending since 2005, and the SVI team couldn't be happier about the approval. Our unique product offers a solution for the auto lift industry that will save time, money, and ultimately produce more effective auto repair results. With SVI's exclusive rights to manufacture the Aqua-Out, customers know they are receiving a useful product of the highest quality," says Doug Climenhaga, President of SVI International.

The Aqua-Out works by removing water from cassette-style auto lifts, caused by accumulated moisture that occurs every time the lift is raised. Water in the lift leads to corrosion and rust, forcing car lift owners to protect their investment by spending large amounts of time and money to have the water pumped out of the lift. SVI's Aqua-Out can be installed in just two hours and run continuously to automatically remove water, keeping the lift safe from damage and reducing the risk of injury in the workplace.

Advantages of the Aqua-Out include saved time and money due to elimination of routine pump-out maintenance, increasing productivity by allowing shop personnel to focus their attention on repairs and revenue production.

"The current system of pumping out water to remove damaging moisture is just not efficient. At SVI, we're interested in productivity and safety at affordable costs. We developed the Aqua-Out for a simple solution that every cassette-style auto lift owner can benefit from," says Climenhaga.

SVI International, Inc. serves more than 2,000 companies throughout the U.S. and Canada. For more information on SVI, visit the them online at <http://www.sviinternational.com/>.
