San Diego, California (PRWEB) January 06, 2014 -- San Diego`s Leading airport shuttle and limousine service company MIB Transportation shares holiday transportation tips for travelers.

The holiday season is the busiest time of year for most people, and that includes the transportation services industry. Airports, train stations and highways are even busier than normal this time of year, and it is important for travelers to plan ahead and book their transportation service needs in advance to help ensure that their trip is as stress- and hassle-free as possible.

Airports are so busy right now, and so crowded. People should prepare to be at the airport at least two hours early for national flights and possibly even three for international flights or they could miss their planes.

With the additional anxiety travelers have to endure during the holiday season. Travelers should do their due diligence and research the company thoroughly and check out reviews on Yelp! before deciding on which company to use.
