

CarHistory.us.org To Release Guide To Buying Recreational Vehicles

Goal is to make sure that people don't get taken advantage of when they buy a RV.

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) January 03, 2014 -- CarHistory.us.org is launching a comprehensive guide to purchasing recreational vehicles, the company said yesterday.

“Basic demographics show that more and more people are now reaching retirement age,” a CarHistory.us.org spokesman said. “This means that there is going to be a growing interest in recreational vehicles. What we want to do is make sure that our customers know how to get a good deal. Other than a house, buying a RV may be one of the biggest investments people make in their lives. We want to make sure they invest wisely.”

The CarHistory.us.org Recreational Vehicle Guide will go through the ins and outs of different types of RVs, how dealers price them, and the best ways to negotiate when you are looking to buy.

“People tend to own recreational vehicles far longer than they own their cars,” he said. “Which means that if you don't buy a RV that is right for you, you can be stuck with it for a long time. Most people don't realize how different various types of RVs are, so we want to give them the basic information they need to make the right choice.”

The guide will be published in the members' area of CarHistory.us.org and also released through their social media channels and blogs, he said.

“Just understanding how RV sales contracts work can save people thousands of dollars,” he said. “We want to give people that understanding.”
