(PRWEB UK) 4 January 2014 -- The Colin Stevens Driving School is pleased to announce a BOGOF offer for new drivers in 2014. This offer sees new drivers being entitled to a free driving lesson for every lesson that they book. Learning how to drive can be a time consuming and expensive process but the firm is committed to helping as many new drivers develop their skills in the year ahead. The firm was established in 1989, but they believe that, with affordable driving lessons and their skilled instructors on hand, 2014 can be the year that a record number of people learn how to drive.

The company has developed a sterling reputation based on the high level of training that they provide. One of the key reasons for the continual development of the firm comes with attention to detail provided by the instructors. The Colin Stevens Driving School takes the time to get to know each student, which allows them to provide a bespoke and tailored lesson plan. Anyone that wants to work with the best driving instructor Hastings has to offer will find that the Colin Stevens Driving School is the obvious choice.

The driving school utilises dual control Volkswagen cars, helping learner drivers to hone their skills in a comfortable and reliable vehicle. The firm provides an extensive range of driving lessons and courses. New and learner drivers can benefit from intensive courses or lessons staged over a lengthy period of time. The school is also offer to provide advanced driver courses, Pass Plus courses and specialist driving lessons. When it comes to choosing from the widest range of driving lessons Ashford has to offer, there is no better place to look than the Colin Stevens Driving School.

The school believes that driving is a life skill and that the focus should be placed on enhancing the skills as well as passing a test. The firm provides full support for the theory exam and actual driving test, but the main focus is on providing drivers with the confidence they need to be able to drive in the modern era. The school also provides refresher driving lessons and courses for drivers who want to boost their skills, knowledge and confidence. Learning how to drive can provide people with more opportunities in the year ahead. With the support of the Colin Stevens Driving School BOGOF offer, there has been a better or more affordable way to learn how to drive.
