

Preowned Honda 1.5 Engine Acquired for Sale in Civic Inventory at PreownedEngines.com Online

Preowned Honda 1.5 engine is now acquired for online sale inside the Civic inventory at the PreownedEngines.com company website. These low mileage engines are part of the performance inventory now sold in the USA.

Seattle, WA (PRWEB) January 06, 2014 -- Honda replacement motors are one auto part that is in high demand on the secondary parts market in the U.S. The Preowned Engines company is now announcing the acquisition of preowned Honda 1.5 engine inventory for sale for Civic vehicles at preownedengines.com.

The Honda D series motor is one of the only builds that have been used in more than one decade of production for performance vehicles. This engine was first released in the 1980s and variations of technology have been added through the different production years by Honda.

These 1.5 used motors are one part of the new JDM engines inventory that is promoted in the U.S. at the PreownedEngines.com company website. This company has acquired various forms of performance motors from automakers in the past 12 months to build a better four-cylinder inventory of foreign builds online.

"The 1.5 motor is one of the most requested for Civic vehicles and other brands in the Honda lineup," a source said at the PreownedEngines.com company.

Aside from the Honda engines now sold as used online, the domestic portion of the company inventory has been increased with different sizes of engines for U.S. sales. The V6 and V8 inventory of Ford, Chevy and Dodge is now promoted on the company website through the research system.

"The new mixture of foreign and American built engines available online are one strategy now used to present the most buying options to engine researchers online," the source added.

The PreownedEngines.com company website now features a majority of the available inventory inside the search system built for engine research. Engines not found using this locator service could be located when calling the new company toll-free number.

This number is provided on the company website and is linked with the customer support specialists able to look up inventory and quote all used engines pricing. This number is now available during regular business hours offline.
