

Used 5.3 Engine Now for Sale at U.S. Auto Parts Company Website

Used 5.3 engine is now for sale as part of the Chevy inventory now entered online at the AutoProsUSA.com company. These V8 Vortec motors are currently shippable within the U.S.

Little Rock, AR (PRWEB) January 09, 2014 -- The parts division at the Auto Pros USA company is now updated for 2014 to increase the types of engines that consumers can purchase online. This company is now including used 5.3 engine inventory for sale at <http://autoprosusa.net/used-5-3-engine-sale>.

These previously owned auto parts solutions that are now provided online are helping to introduce the Chevy 5.3 V8 engines in Vortec builds online. Replacement engine buyers who are without resources at the local level to find authentic vehicle engines are expected to benefit from these 2014 inclusions online.

Certain engine brands perform better than others in the U.S. auto market in terms of speed, performance and longevity, according to auto industry research. The General Motors company has remained a top producer of V8 base engines since the 1950s in the U.S.

The GM company first produced its Vortec engine base after development in the 1985 year. Most trucks, vans and SUV vehicles produced in the past 25 years in the U.S. have featured the 5.3 engine editions.

"This engine block is still in use and is in the fourth generation of production in the U.S.," a source from the AutoProsUSA.com company said.

The 5300 V8 base engines that are now supplied in used condition online have joined the existing inventory of Chevy motors and parts listed online. The Auto Pros company has recently added the larger Vortec 5.7 series motors to build up its larger horsepower engine series for U.S. buyers.

"Our website is now one of the resources that American parts buyers can utilize to search thousands of different parts from our network of suppliers to find low pricing," the source included.

The Auto Pros USA company recently completed the inclusion of a toll-free ordering line to assist buyers of parts. This number is currently available during regular business hours in the U.S. at 1-888-230-1731.

This offline customer service solution is now combined with the online parts research and quotes system found directly on the company homepage to find all in stock parts.

About AutoProsUSA.net

The AutoProsUSA.net company has constructed its online locator service for finding aftermarket and previously owned parts sold by top salvage and junkyard companies in North America. This services located on the company homepage offers complimentary access to parts buyers. The AutoProsUSA.net company holds one of the largest online inventories for replacement parts for sale on the Internet. The easy access solutions this company provides for car owners, mechanics and other secondary parts buyers has boosted the company reputation in the U.S. in 2014.

Contact Information

Mark Goins

AutoProsUSA.net

<http://www.autoprosusa.net>

+1 (888) 230-1731

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.