

Guy Michetti To Perform At New York City Auto Show

Guy Michetti will be performing live at the New York City Auto Show on Monday April 12th, 2004 at 1:00pm at the Javitz Center in New York City.

(PRWEB) April 11, 2004 --Michetti (www.guymichetti.com) was picked, along with other independent musicians, to play at the event by the premier online company www.sonicbids.com that puts venues and independent artists together. His new and eagerly awaited album "A New York City Life" is near completion. The release date will be announced shortly. In the meantime, Michetti's EP I'm Coming Home , released at the end of last year, has been selling well online and at live performances and has generated record company interest.

As an independent musician, Guy relies on the internet as well as live performances to get his music heard. His music is available on his own, web site www.guymichetti.com and several other online music portals such as www.songplanet.com, www.soundclick.com and he has been a featured artist at www.mp3unsigned.com

The song I'M COMING HOME on the EP of the same name, (available at CD BABY www.cdbaby.com/cd/michetti) about a wounded soldier coming home from Iraq, has generated almost unbelievable global interest. The song has been downloaded and streamed by people from an ever increasing list of countries:

Said Michetti, "I'm still so surprised that so many people from around the world accessed this song online and actually took the time to order it as well. The internet is an amazing thing when it works!"

A fellow singer/songwriter Jeff Crandall described Michetti's music when he heard it over at www.garageband.com this way:

It's like a bunch of great rock singers and bands rolled into one. This song reminds me of Bob Geldof, The Clash, Bob Dylan, The Waterboys, The Hothouse Flowers, Tom Petty, and on and on. But it doesn't sound derivative of any, just reminiscent - like you belong in their company. I really love your voice. I'm sure this is the best vocal I've heard on Garageband (and I've heard a lot of them). The vocalist really permeates and carries this piece, so much so that I'm not thinking about any of the other parts. When I do stop to think about them, they are obviously well-played, thoughtful parts. Everything fits great. The mix, arrangement, lyrics, and production are all fantastic. Overall, this is one of the most perfect songs, in all aspects, that I've heard on Garageband. It deserves to be on the "Best Of" albums of any of the artists I mentioned at the top of this review. High marks all around! I wish you the very, very best! Jeff Crandall www.ashlandnetwork.com/jeffcrandall

Michetti is donating profits from the I'm Coming Home EP to Disabled American Veterans.
