ACD's AutoLink® Adds Predictive Scoring Solution[™] To Pinpoint Total Losses. Real time recommendations speed up claims handling.

Carlsbad,CA (PRWEB) February 06, 2017 -- ACD, a leading claims technology, decision support, advisory and service network aggregator to the property and casualty industry today announced a key enhancement to the company's flagship material damage workflow platform AutoLink®.

Through ACD's advanced proprietary algorithms, AutoLink's Predictive Scoring SolutionTM (PSS) can now help insurers identify potential total losses and recommend early tow opportunities to dramatically lower cycle times and expenses, all which assist adjusters in closing files faster and more efficiently.

"Our technology team has been at the forefront of predictive data for years with our intelligent dispatching and method of inspection routing solutions. Now, our Predictive Scoring Solution[™] is yet another leap forward," stated ACD CEO, Ernie Bray. "Modern insurers in today's rapidly changing claims environment need more than just a platform - they need technology that provides feedback and recommendations in real time to allow for quick and decisive assessments. Our ability to consistently deliver results has led to many insurers adopting our integrated workflow platform," added Bray.

ACD's process of continuously developing customizable modules has provided insurers nationwide with solutions that can support their unique workflows.
