

Vertical Support for Pickup Trucks Developed by InventHelp Inventor

InventHelp, a leading inventor service company, is working to submit Tyler Extend A Bed Vertical For Truck & Trailer to companies for their review.

PITTSBURGH (PRWEB) November 12, 2017 -- Pickup trucks are extremely useful in situations where large loads need to be transporting from one point to another. That being said, there are some items that are too tall for a shallow truck bed, requiring the individual transporting the item to have to rent a larger vehicle.

An inventor from Pelham, Ala., has invented TYLER EXTEND A BED VERTICAL FOR TRUCK & TRAILER, an accessory designed for a pickup truck or utility trailer to greatly increase cargo-carrying capabilities. "I found myself in a situation where I needed a taller truck bed and ultimately had to rent a trailer," said the inventor. "If I had had my invention at the time, I would have saved time, money and effort." TYLER EXTEND A BED VERTICAL FOR TRUCK & TRAILER allows a truck owner to haul up to 60 percent more than what might normally be, eliminating the hassle, expense and time associated with making multiple trips.

This invention provides added support and stability for bulky loads that might otherwise be susceptible to leaning or falling out of the truck bed enhancing travel safety and control for the truck owner without risking dropping items onto the highway and posing a danger to others. It can be adapted for use on most pickup trucks, contributing to its usefulness and versatility in a simple and convention manner.

The original design was submitted to the Birmingham office of InventHelp. It is currently available for licensing or sale to manufacturers or marketers.
