Extreme Xtra Fuel Treatments were originally designed to enhance pump gas and the continued issues that plague vehicle owners due to the current ethanol content in the fuel at the gas pump. Extreme Xtra Fuel Treatments is a unique formula of agents that break down the covalent bonds of gasoline or diesel fuel, allowing for better combustion efficiency of the fuel.

When fuel is burned in a more efficient and complete manner, lesser parts of the unburned fuel make their way to the tailpipe. Extreme Xtra Fuel Treatments also helps clean up engine deposits by loosening engine deposits of material created by ethanol. It is a very economical way to restore or get better gas mileage, lower emissions, lower vehicle maintenance, and keep the vehicle's engine cleaner.

Extreme Xtra Fuel Treatments now are offered at $14.95 for a (16) ounce bottle, for either diesel or gasoline, whereas the bottle doubles as the product applicator. Extreme Xtra Gasoline Fuel Treatments will treat up to 400 gallons of fuel. It only takes one ounce to treat twenty-five gallons of fuel, making each application's investment only $0.94 cents (ninety-four cents) per treatment of twenty-five gallons. The gasoline formula is safe to use in cars, vans, pick-up trucks, and other vehicles powered by a gasoline powered internal combustion engine.

Extreme Xtra Diesel/Bio-Diesel Fuel Treatment is pre-packaged in a (16) ounce applicator bottle, and will treat up to 160 gallons of diesel or bio-diesel fuel; one ounce per ten gallons of diesel/bio-diesel fuel. Extreme Xtra Diesel Fuel Treatment complies with the federal low sulfur content requirements for diesel engine use, and can be used with trucks, buses, construction equipment, medium and heavy duty commercial vehicles which are powered by diesel engines.

Both Extreme Xtra gasoline and diesel formulas can also be used for marine use, off-road vehicles, and personal sport craft.
