Alloa, Scotland, United Kingdom, (PRWEB) October 17, 2004 - Car Rental specialists EveryCarHire, a privately held company, announced today that their revenues have increased 50% this year. This growth came about from a dramatic increase in sales of their car rental services. The increased exposure was attributed to the services of Elixir Systems, search engine optimization (SEO) and increased sponsored listing (Pay per click) on the Google search engine. Their SEO services via ElixirSystems in maximising search engine-ranking positions for EveryCarHire was instrumental in increased sales performance. We are excited by the level of growth at such an early stage. We have worked hard to get to this point and we are looking ahead to the coming year with anticipation for more growth. We altered our focus slightly to target mid-sized B2B organizations who are in need of a complete professional, and custom service car rental service. said Calum Edmond, Director of EveryCarHire.
