

See Washington, D.C., motorcades at motorcadecam!

The world's only Web site offering "a peek at the parades of power" now back online!

(PRWEB) July 17, 2004 -- After a brief hiatus (well, OK, a fairly long hiatus) due to technical difficulties, Motorcadecam is back on the Web! This unique site (<http://www.foto411.com/motorcadecam/>) offers up-to-the-minute digital photos of motorcades at the intersection of Connecticut Avenue and L Street Northwest, a frequent route of the bulletproof limos that speed dignitaries around our nation's capital. You may even get a glimpse of the president's or vice president's motorcade, an especially regal occurrence. Motorcadecam also offers historic photos of motorcades from presidents Coolidge to Clinton, a backgrounder on presidential limos and a first-person account of driving in a motorcade. It's fun and educational for the whole family!
