

New Software for Drivers in US & Canada

Just released educational software entitled

ÂUS & Canada Driving TestÂ on CD-ROM designed for beginner drivers.

OTTAWA, ONTARIO (PRWEB) July 29, 2004 -- Recent studies indicating that every year more than 4 000 000 people apply for driverÂs license in US & Canada.

AplusB Software Corporation, after 2 years of research, just released educational interactive software entitled ÂUS & Canada Driving TestÂ on CD-ROM designed for beginner drivers.

AplusB ensures that students who practiced ÂUS & Canada Driving TestÂ will be fully qualified to pass state/provincial DriverÂs License exam and will drive safely.

ÂWe conducted research and determined that young people and newcomers across both countries have serious needs for such product,Â said Piotr Anweiler, Director, A+B. ÂBased on our years of experience in software and road safety, we developed the only program in North America that provides the necessary training.Â

Â The program is offered in English, Spanish, and French language.

Â It covers rules in all states, provinces, and territories.

Â User has study or interactive exam option.

Â Software supports links to all official Departments/Ministries of Transportation web pages, where are all updated information available.

Â Part of application with advises and hints is dedicated to these students who practice driving skills and are ready for Road Test.

Software was donated to Ottawa and Toronto High School libraries and is available in License Office, driving schools, and amazon.com.
