“BBB membership indicates that Burgess Movers has agreed to adhere to the BBB standards of Membership, which sets the company apart from their competitors. These include having a satisfactory record of customer service with the Bureau and responding promptly and fairly to all consumer complaints, if any,” said Robert H. Williams, President and CEO. The Better Business Bureau provides the ability to check out over 80,000 companies in Massachusetts, Maine and Vermont that consumers can access anytime via the BBB website at www.bosbbb.org or by dialing 508-652-4800. Consumers can make an educated decision on who they want to do business with by researching the company on the BBB web site. With the BBB’s request page on www.bosbbb.org, customers request information, estimates and proposals from BBB members. Customers input what work they need done and the request is forwarded to all appropriate member businesses. The members then contact the customers directly with further information, an estimate or a proposal.

The BBB system responds to millions of such inquiries each year, providing information about charity organizations, helping resolve consumers’ disputes with businesses through conciliation, mediation and arbitration and promoting ethical business standards and voluntary self-regulation of business practices.

As a member of the BBB, the company may display the widely recognized member BBB torch logo and display the BBB Online Gold Seal on its Web site. BBB members are setting the standard for credibility, reliability and ethics.
