

Collision Revision Attains Mercedes Benz Certification

Collision Revision is happy to announce that it has received Mercedes-Benz collision certification in Illinois and Indiana.

(PRWEB) March 9, 2005 --.Collision Revision is happy to announce that it has received Mercedes-Benz collision certification in Illinois and Indiana. Collision Revision was put through an extensive audit and has met Mercedes-Benz standards for tools, equipment, facilities, repair work, training equipment and commitment to customer care. Less than 1% of all collision facilities are certified by Mercedes-Benz. Collision Revision has achieved the Mercedes-Benz highest certification. The CL structural certification allows Collision Revision to perform collision repairs on all vehicles including heavy collision and structural repairs on the unique CL-Class model vehicles.

Collision Revision's founder and CEO Roger D'Orazio said that becoming certificated was a long and costly process. The certification means that this will allows us to repair Mercedes-Benz to factory specifications guaranteed, and that will give our Mercedes customers a high level of confidence in the repair process. As a Mercedes-Benz owner I am thrilled to have our company achieve this high standard of repair ability.
