VanCleave states; "My Moto Series is a salute to the exceptional style and unequalled design found in many cars, motorcycles and trucks. From Classics to Exotics to Hot Rods and Motorsports, I capture the beauty in the details, the lines of design and reveal unique angles that capture the essence of these motorized works of art. Now collectors have the ability to commission my artwork of their vehicles. I travel to their location anywhere in the world and shoot an original series of photographic art of their vehicles.

The Process . "I travel to the collector's location for each shoot. Before the shoot, I like to chat with the collector to find out what they find irresistible about their vehicles, what are their favorite details, what makes each vehicle special. It's ideal if I can see where my art is going to be hanging, what room in their home or office or garage. Subtle color is a very important element of my work and I like to craft my creations to compliment the collectors environment. During each shoot, I create a series of three or more different images of each vehicle that captures the character of its individuality and style. Collectors receive a series of three or more original artworks for each vehicle. Shoots typically run 2-4 hours and I prefer to shoot outdoors if weather is permitting. It's a fun and unique experience for everyone".
