

New UK Motoring News and Information Website Updated Daily With the Latest News and Information

ALLUK-Motoring.co.uk is a site dedicated to news from the world of motoring in the UK . We collect on a daily basis any news we believe is related to owning and running a car in the UK.

(PRWEB) October 14, 2004 -- ALLUK has just released the first of it's news and information portals. This new site is dedicated to providing news and information related to the MOTORING public.

NEWS : The front page is dedicated to displaying links to the days and the weeks news worthy stories or press releases, the driving public will find informative. Every day we collect links to the motoring news in the UK ranging from the latest car models, accessories, gadgets, motor racing, and any other interesting or funny facts, and provide an archive of older news stories.

NEW CAR INFORMATION: We have researched the 50 + makes (and provided links to each manufacturers web site) of car sold in the UK and included information on 400 + current models on sale currently. The information includes the base starting (On The Road) price and the lowest insurance group for each model.

This information will help you with the research needed when buying a new car. The information can be displayed by Manufacturer, Price or Insurance Group.

The insurance group details are especially useful for the younger driver who is often limited to insurance groups below a certain Group, and the level of cover that can be obtained. Did you know there are currently 35 new cars on sale in the UK that are Group 3 insurance or lower.

The Price Categories are helpful to look at the range of models and manufacturers within your set price range , as an example there are 56 different Models of new car for sale (OTR) price under 10,000.

The Manufacturers section provides a list of the models that are currently available from each manufacturer.

The new site is online now and can be reached at <http://www.alluk-motoring.co.uk>

This is a unique web site with it's format, making the research to buy your next new car quick and easy and with no popups or registration required.
