

Gas Prices On The Rise Again

Enviro Max Plus is a new U.S. patented product that increases your gas mileage, horsepower, reduces emissions and wear & tear on your vehicle. It works in all engines including diesel.

Fremont, CA (PRWEB) November 15, 2004 -- In recent weeks, gas prices have risen to a national average of over $2.00 per gallon. As we've learned from decades of experience, when crude oil prices continue to skyrocket, gas prices invariably follow.

With the holiday season upon us and busy lives that must go on, driving less may not be an option for most people. We can spend tens of thousands on new gas-electric hybrid cars, or we can find ways to make our current vehicles run more efficiently.

To help Americans get more out of their fuel dollar, Extreme Research introduces Enviro-Max Plus, a revolutionary fuel catalyst that can increase fuel efficiency by up to 35%. Enviro-Max Plus is endorsed by Johnny Rutherford, three-time winner of the Indianapolis 500. It is one of only a few automotive products in its category to have received a US Patent. "It benefits drivers, the environment, and it's available only through Extreme Research," says Jerry Moore, representative of the company.

Drivers who add 1 oz. of Enviro-Max Plus to every 5 gallons of gas in their car will experience up to 35% increase in gas mileage. This means that for every dollar spent on Enviro-Max Plus, drivers can save $1.00-$3.00 in fuel costs. Additionally, Enviro-Max Plus can also save drivers money on future engine repairs and/or tune-ups by reducing engine wear and tear by up to 80%. It increases horsepower & performance in all gas engines, including diesels, motorcycles, tractors, lawn mowers, generators, etc.

"And for the environment, using Enviro-Max Plus results in a 50-80% reduction in emission of pollutants through vehicle exhaust. It won't harm your engine or void any warranties," says Moore.

There is also a lucrative business opportunity associated with Enviro-Max Plus. Participants earn commissions on sales they refer. For more information about Enviro-Max Plus and how it can help your car, the environment, and your pocketbook, visit
