

Intense Interest from Suitors Compels RideOnTime.com to Hire New Director of Acquisitions

RideOnTime.com, the leader in the integration of the ground transportation industry into the online travel market has retained Ryan Sabga as Director of Acquisitions.

DENVER, CO (PRWEB) January 26, 2005 -- RideOnTime.com, the leader in the integration of the ground transportation industry into the online travel market has retained Ryan Sabga as Director of Acquisitions.

“Due to the overwhelming interest and increasingly serious courtship from high-profile firms and industry leaders, we recognized the need to hire an internal M&A expert to work with our outside M&A counsel Weinstein Spira and Company,” says Nicholas Chavez, CEO of RideOnTime.com. “This will allow the remainder of the RideOnTime.com management team to remain focused on growing our national network and the revenues associated therewith.”

Mr. Sabga has led several transactions involving corporate acquisitions and divestiture of proprietary intellectual property possessed by smaller, high-growth companies. He was ultimately recruited away by a group of Silicon Valley businessmen to put together key acquisitions for their personal portfolios.

RideOnTime.com has finally enabled the integration of the ground transportation industry into the online travel market through the real time provision of fare quotes and estimates for travelers utilizing taxi and limousine services.

"Besides handling the ongoing influx of interest from potential acquirers, my job is to give feedback on pending partnership agreements and help oversee the company's growth and overall marketability," said Mr. Sabga.

In addition to his business achievements, Ryan is a former professional cyclist with a dozen state and national championship medals. He holds an MBA from the University of Denver and hails from Boca Raton, Florida.

About RideOnTime.com:

Denver-based www.RideOnTime.com is the first to enable the integration of the ground transportation industry into the online travel market. RideOnTime.com calculates the exact cost for taxi, limousine, and courier services via geo-mapping technology and mathematical algorithms. For more information visit www.RideOnTime.com.

About BarronHanley PR:

BarronHanley is a boutique PR firm, overflowing with creative energy and proven brilliance. Our talents lie in the planning and execution of publicity, marketing and special events with the ultimate goal of building brands in the high tech, corporate, political and entertainment industries. For more information visit www.BarronHanley.com.

###

Contact Information

Brea Blum

BARRONHANLEY PR

<http://www.rideontime.com>

7202526452

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.