

Find Cheap Used Cars Online

Find Cheap Used Cars by bidding on these seized Vehicles in your area. You can save up to 95% at these Government Auctions.

(PRWEB) February 5, 2005 -- By buying direct from the U.S. Government it is often possible to buy used cars and almost new cars for a very low price. Thousands of other surplus items are also available at these auctions, such as household and commercial furnishing, machinery and property etc. Both new and used merchandise is sold to the general public each year - millions of dollars worth.

These cheap cars are not wrecks with a salvage title but many of the vehicles available are almost new with low miles. These types of vehicles are usually seized by law enforcement agencies and sold for dirt cheap at auctions throughout the country. People just like yourself who have discovered the real meaning of what an "unbelievable bargain" is by attending government auction sales, have gotten involved for one of two reasons: 1) They want a specific item and know they can buy it at an enormous discount; or 2) They are in the business of buying many items at low prices, and selling them for a huge profit!

Whatever your motive, you can also take advantage of your new purchasing power once you know how to get involved. Maybe you have always dreamed of owning a yacht, a stretch limo, or other luxury vehicles. According to recent figures, the government is expected to sell up to one-quarter million vehicles! How would you like to purchase a Porsche, BMW, Jaguar, Lincoln Stretch Limo, Mercedes, Cadillac, or other luxury car for less than $100, and then resell it for a fast $20,000 profit?

To find more about local government auctions in your area you can visit <http://CheapCarAuction.1st-in-Bargains.com>

###

Contact Information

Larry O'connor

NA

<http://CheapCarAuction.1st-in-Bargins.com>

0035318011972

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.