

Camping and Rving Travel Related Consumers and Professional Web Designers Announce the Launch of eCampsite.com

A free online campground and RV parks directory and guide covering the United States with cross referenced attractions and events throughout every state to help campers plan their trips easily and efficiently is only scratching the surface of what is available to campers and RVers on eCampSite.com. The goal of bringing a variety of camping and RVing industry related information to one place has been reached and continues to grow as industry leaders contribute their knowledge and sponsorship.

(PRWEB) February 15, 2005 -- The launch of <http://www.eCampSite.com> brings campers a complete and informative camping interest web portal where users can easily search for campgrounds and RV parks throughout the United States of America without charge. The well organized online campground directory includes printable eBrochures and campground website links to help visitors find campgrounds efficiently. Users will also find the campground and RV parks directory includes links to each campgrounds' money saving discount clubs and affiliations.

eCampSite.com provides camping and RVing enthusiasts with information about online retail camping equipment and supply stores along with a wealth of information about RVing including where to find maintenance manuals and advice to consider before purchasing a recreational vehicle. Visitors are invited to share their tips, tricks and camping recipes or enjoy some camping comedy from contributing authors and a contributing cartoonist.

Campground and RV park owners are encouraged to add their campground or resort to the rapidly growing directory prior to their peak season to ensure their listing is available to visitors.

The owners of eCampSite.com stated, "As professional web designers and programmers we use the internet ourselves to find information of personal interest. We simply could not find a well organized campground guide along with a variety of camping and RVing related information in one place". eCampSite continued, "A company simply will not advertise resources from a business they compete with. An association will not advertise non-member campgrounds. We are not owners of a retail store, a printed campground directory, or campground chain owners so we are not in competition with any industry related website or land based company. We wanted to provide a 'one stop camping shop' so to speak and are able to do that".

RV dealers, campground owners, camping equipment and supply chains, and any camping industry company will find a simple and comprehensive place to bring their goods and businesses to the consumers attention.

RVers and tent campers alike can freely browse all areas of eCampSite.com and find continuously updated information, articles, campground listings, attractions, product reviews, and a simplified links system making it easy to find outside related resources.

For more information, visit <http://www.ecampsite.com>

###

Contact Information

Jason or Michelle

eCampSite

<http://www.ecampsite.com>

419-635-2402

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.