

WINFUEL Chevy Proves Extremely Fast During Daytona Practice

Braun Racing's newly unveiled #32 WINFUEL™ Chevrolet® will make its debut this Saturday in the NASCAR® Busch Series at Hershey's Take 5 300 at Daytona International Speedway. Driver Shane Hmiel will be at the helm

(PRWEB) February 20, 2005 -- Cedar Knolls, NJ, February 18, 2005 -- Braun Racing's newly unveiled #32 WINFUEL™ Chevrolet® will make its debut this Saturday in the NASCAR® Busch Series at Hershey's Take 5 300 at Daytona International Speedway. Driver Shane Hmiel will be at the helm.

"It feels good to come to the track with a sponsor, especially one that is as high-profile and committed to winning as WINFUEL™," said Hmiel. "With the support that we are getting from DEI (engines) and Chevrolet, we are really excited about getting the season started. We're really looking forward to putting the WINFUEL™ Chevy in victory lane and making a run for the championship."

The WINFUEL™ Chevy proved extremely fast in this week's drafting practice. Hmiel clocked in second quickest in Thursday's 1st practice session, behind the #33 car driven by Tony Stewart, and was clearly pushing him.

"I would be really surprised if we don't run inside the top-five, as good as our car was in testing," explained Hmiel. "We were able to take it back to the shop and make it a little better. This weekend I'm going to qualify, and I'm going to run with Martin Truex and Dale (Earnhardt) Jr. during the race. During testing, we had three of the top four best cars, along with Kevin Harvick. I'm going to push those guys all day long, until the last few laps. The best I've ever done is when I've pushed someone all day long and raced at the end."

Hmiel finished 5th in his first NASCAR® Busch Series race at Daytona in 2002, and will hit the track in the WINFUEL™ #32 Chevy at 1 PM on Saturday February 19th. The 300-mile event will be broadcast live on FOX, on radio stations affiliated with MRN and XM Satellite Radio Channel 144.
