

Windshield Repair Boot Camp Leaves Footprint In Texas

Delta Kits Requires Technicians to Focus on Quality of Repairs

Eugene, OR (PRWEB) April 16, 2005 -- Delta Kits, Inc. conducted their latest full day windshield repair business boot camp on April 10th in San Antonio Texas. Along with a full day of hands on repair training and factory certification focusing on quality repairs, the boot camp included an in depth marketing seminar designed to help businesses with their marketing and sales of windshield repair.

“As the business environment changes for glass shops around the country, it is more important than ever to focus on making your business model as profitable as possible. A healthy repair program is absolutely vital in today’s market. At Delta Kits, we are in a unique position to see exactly which strategies are working for our customers, and which ones aren’t. So, we have asked some of our most successful customers to share their secrets with others. This boot camp is designed to get new business owners off to a flying start, and to help those already in business become more reputable and more profitable in the long run.” says Matt Larson, Vice President of Sales and Training for Delta Kits, Inc.

Delta Kits has been a premier supplier of windshield repair products since 1984. For more information on the Delta Kits line of windshield repair products or the Delta Kits Windshield Repair Boot Camps, visit www.deltakits.com or call them toll free at 1.800.548.8332.
