

Amazing Fuel Saving Discovery Rocks Automotive World, Cuts Dangerous Emmissions Up to 80% While Improving Gas Mileage Up to 35%

Scientist are calling EnviroMax Plus Fuel Catalyst the greatest automotive discovery of our time. Savings up to 50 cents per gallon of gas while protecting the environment.

(PRWEB) March 27, 2005 -- The automotive world is raving about EnviroMax Plus which is marketed exclusively by Extreme Research Corporation of Dallas, Texas.

EnviroMax Plus is a revolutionary fuel catalyst, not to be confused with the thousands of existing additive products and gadgets already on the market. It has been used successfully for over 9 years by thousands of people, as well as city goverments, latge trucking lines, railroads, farming, and boating companies.

EnviroMax Plus is used and endorsed by race car driver Johnny Rutherford, the three time winner of the "Indianapolis 500". EnviroMax Plus is one of a few select automotive products in its category to have received a US Patent. This is truly a unique product that will impact air quality and fuel economy worldwide.

This is truly a unique product which offers tremendous savings, benefits the environment and is marketed through a growing network of independent representatives currently being sought after nationwide.

Documented results of EnviroMax Plus Fuel Catalyst:
