

TixNix.com Freeing Truckers From Needless Pre-Paid Legal Charges

TixNix.com, a new online service that lets truckers and motorists fight moving violations completely through the Internet, is providing truckers a new, low-cost alternative to costly pre-paid legal plans.

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) April 12, 2005 -- Recent national- and state-level legislation has made it more likely than ever for truckers to receive a moving violation while on or off the job, threatening both their driving records and their careers.

Many CDL holders have been turning to expensive pre-paid legal services to protect themselves against these violations and preserve their driving records and their careers. With the introduction of TixNix.com, however, these expensive prepaid legal plans may soon be obsolete.

Almost every pre-paid legal plan charges drivers a retainer fee whether or not the plan's services are used. These charges can add up to hundreds of dollars annually, and are not refundable if no services are used. In exchange for paying this fee, a driver often gets one or two free phone consultations with a lawyer per year, as well as discounted legal representation, if required, for an additional flat fee.

What pre-paid legal services charge hundreds of dollars for, TixNix.com provides for free, says Steve Ehrenreich, CEO and co-founder of TixNix.com. At TixNix.com, we offer every driver a free consultation with an experienced traffic attorney for every violation they receive.

When a driver uses TixNix.com, a unique software system streamlines the collection and delivery of information about the case to the attorney. This frees up the attorney's time, which allows TixNix.com to provide these free consultations.

While other traffic attorneys including those employed by pre-paid services must spend significant amounts of time on the phone interviewing clients, our Ticket Wizard quickly and easily collects all the information an attorney needs to know to provide accurate advice to a driver, says Ehrenreich.

In addition to free advice from experienced traffic attorneys, the efficiency offered by TixNix.com allows lawyers to offer competitively-priced legal representation, with no retainer fees ever.

Since we use the Internet to streamline the legal process, the amount of time an attorney spends on a client is focused on the case, not the paperwork. That means they can do the job quicker and better, and they can charge less, too.

Many pre-paid legal services take a production line approach to representation, spending as little time as possible on a case to maximize their profit, which in turn minimizes the benefit to the driver.

TixNix.com attorneys pride themselves on providing the highest-quality, personalized service to their clients, says Ehrenreich. In fact, we can boast that TixNix.com is currently running a 100% success rate in court for rulings in favor of our clients.

Perhaps the greatest benefit to using TixNix.com is the ease of use, including complete online management of each violation and a convenient toll-free number for motorists without Web access (877-TIXNIX-1).

“Nearly the entire transaction for the driver is done through the Internet. Most of our clients never need to step into a lawyer’s office or a court room,” says Ehrenreich. “That keeps them on the road, earning a living, and that’s what we’re all about.”
