

Auto Insurance Planners Provides State-Specific Insurance Quotes

Auto Insurance Planners, an Internet auto insurance information hub, has added state-specific insurance information and quotes to their website.

(PRWEB) April 11, 2005 -- Auto Insurance Planners, an Internet auto insurance information hub, has added state-specific car insurance information and quotes for all 50 states including the District of Columbia. This insurance information by state is now easily accessible to online consumers who can find auto insurance information or quotes tailored to a specific state.

As auto insurance laws vary by state, Auto Insurance Planners has made the process easier for consumers to retrieve the relevant information for their home state. Included with each state's information is minimum required auto insurance coverage by law in that state and also a description of how to read car insurance liability limits. Consumers can read about factors that affect their state-specific rates and also obtain an auto insurance quote.

"By providing auto insurance information for every state, Auto Insurance Planners has taken one more step towards becoming the only place our users will need to visit to learn everything they need to learn," said Sean Denny, founder of Auto Insurance Planners. "We are really trying to help drivers understand exactly what type of coverage best fits their needs and satisfies their state's laws at the same time."
