

Bluegrass In The Park

Music Festival-Bull Roast-Classic Car Display

(PRWEB) April 17, 2005 -- The Lions Club of Brandywine will present their 4th annual Bluegrass in the Park Music Festival, Bull Roast, and Classic Car Display. It will begin at 1:00pm on Saturday May 14th and will run until 8:00 pm. Join M.C. Ray Davis from WAMU Radio in Washington, DC as he introduces you to some of the finest Bluegrass music around. From Martinsburg, WV, The Scott Brannon Band will bring their traditional sound to the stage along with The Virginia Ramblers (formerly The Virginia Cutups) from Charlottesville, VA. Headlining the show will be Rebel Recording artist, David Davis & the Warrior River Boys from Cullman, Alabama. Also Southern Maryland's own Jay Armsworthy & Eastern Tradition from California, Maryland will be on hand. As you can see, Bluegrass music from all points of the East Coast will be coming to Cheltenham, Maryland for this annual event.

David Davis & the Warrior River Boys play Bluegrass in the mold of the music's pioneers...with heart, soul, and conviction. David himself is a singer and mandolin player of the highest degree and the Warrior River Boys provide the perfect complement to David's talents. David has a voice that spans time, a voice that conjures up the ghosts of a thousand generations. It's a voice so emotive and fervent that it brings to mind a fire and brimstone preacher calling down the heavens, even though he's singing about "Leavin' Tennessee" or the "Freight Train Blues" rather than touching on the book of Revelations.

The Warrior River Boys are no less talented than their front man. Marty Hays plays the bass fiddle and shares the lead singing, Jeff Griffy plays rhythm and lead guitar, Josh Smith is on the banjo and Owen Saunders fills it out with his big fiddle sound.

The energy and musical creativity proves that David Davis & the Warrior River Boys are one of the most talented, exciting, and dynamic Bluegrass bands around. They are undeniably awesome.

Food concessions will be available on the field. The gates open at 10:00 am and if you have one of them old classic cars you're more than welcome to bring it for display. But all show cars must be in the park by 12:00 noon. So load up the old Jalopy with your blanket and lawn chairs and head on down to the Bluegrass in the Park. The show will go on rain or shine, but no need to worry because there is also a covered pavilion on the property. The park is located at U.S. Rt. 301 and Cherrytree Crossing Road in Cheltenham, Maryland (across from the Veterans Cemetery). Sorry no pets or coolers are allowed in the park and Security will be on duty during the event. Tickets at the gate will be $15.00 per person or you can get them in advance for $10.00 per person by mail from the Brandywine Lions Club, P.O. Box 250, Cheltenham, MD 20623 or in person at the Waldorf Motel on U.S. Rt. 301 South between 8 & 5 Monday through Friday.

If you love good traditional Bluegrass music, good food, and enjoy the sights of the fine classic cars of yesteryear, then come on down! For more information, contact Roger Hamilton at 301-292-3238 or 301-466-7118.
