

The Coming of Age

The classic car sales business is about to come of age on the net.

(PRWEB) May 11, 2005 -- American Relics is here, it's the only site on the web that offers you two ways to buy or sell your classic car or muscle car, unlike some of the other places on the net, we only do cars and car related sales.

American relics offer you and auto auction and a classified section all on the same site, it's our goal to see that your car is well taken care of, and you are pleased with the trasaction.

We are trying to harness the power of the web, to our best knowledge to help you get your car bought or sold.

The site is totally dedicated to the preservation of these great old cars, wehn it's time to buy or sell, we'd like to see these cars go to people that will love them and put them on the road for the world to see.

American Relics is an affiliate of Red Line Restoreation and therefore has the full capability of restoring your old American car aslo.

We have combined meny services to give you exactly what you need and what your looking for in a car sales shop on the net.

Americam Relics hopes to bring the excitment back to classic car sales on the net, and we'll do what it takes to get you on board.
