

Klondike RV Park & Cabins Announces Opening of RV Park with 27 Full Hookup Sites, Three Authentic Alaskan Log Cabins and Online Reservations

The RV Park features 27 full hookup sites and three Authentic Alaskan log cabins. It is located one block off the famous Kenai River in Soldotna, Alaska. It offers an unforgettable Alaskan adventure.

(PRWEB) May 16, 2005 -- Klondike RV Park & Cabins (REVA Inc.) opened Sunday, May 15, 2005. Klondike RV Park & Cabins features an RV Park and three fully equipped, handcrafted, authentic Alaskan log cabins. Reservations are available online at www.klondikecabins.com.

The RV Park has 27 RV sites with full hookups and can accommodate rigs to 50 feet. Premium sites offer exceptional privacy and are closest to the laundry and showers. All of the sites are 25 feet wide to enable the comfort of slide-outs and still permit parking of the tow vehicle.

The log cabins each sleep four comfortably. The relaxed and friendly atmosphere is enjoyable and the staff looks forward to making your stay comfortable. It's an adventure you'll come back for year after year.

Klondike RV Park & Cabins (REVA Inc.) is owned and operated by longtime Peninsula residents Andy and Sheila Lovett. It is located at 48665 Funny River Road in Soldotna, 12 miles south of the Kenai Airport and one block off the Kenai River. It is less than five minutes from downtown Soldotna, off the Sterling Highway/Funny River Road .25-mile marker.
