

Auto Advertiser, a Product that Delivers Real Advertisements to Real People with Minimal Work, and No Hidden Fees

Auto Advertiser will change the way online marketers work. If you can click your mouse, you can legitimately advertise to an untapped market of possible buyers. Work smarter, not harder!

(PRWEB) May 23, 2005 -- Costa Dedes, author of famous Get on Google: Secrets Revealed and Wes Lund have teamed up to produce what is set to be another best-selling product, Auto Advertiser. This new product allows users to advertise every time they visit a webpage. As thousands of dollars are spent daily on advertisements, the excitement over Auto Advertiser continues to mount. To secure an endless number of advertisements, a one-time investment of about $40 is phenomenal. Aspiring marketers and affiliates, look no further, the answer to your problems is here.

When approached for comments, Costa said, "We're incredibly excited about Auto Advertiser and the effects it will generate for marketers. We wanted to create something new and innovating, something that opened an untapped market, something we could be proud of. We are aware of all the other products that promise free advertisements, but these other products either fail to perform, are price inhibitive, or they simply lack kick." We have been searching for an answer for two months, now, and, finally, we found a way! What we do is use Internet Explorer, which ships with Windows, as a marketing tool, so even starting out, marketers can be advertising all the time. Best of all, it's a set-and-forget type product, set it up once, and advertise thousands of times daily.

For the price of a dinner and a movie users can start sending hundreds or thousands of daily advertisements, depending on how often the user surfs the Internet. These kinds of ads can cost as much as $700 using traditional advertising methods that do not have the same reach. Mr. Lund went on record, saying, "Knowing that every website you visit could result in a sell, a joint venture, or a new affiliate sign up is incentive enough to draw most established marketers to the product. We did not expect that most established marketers would react this way because we didn't make Auto Advertiser for them, we built it for all the new and aspiring marketers and affiliates who don't have the kind of money built up to run a costly marketing campaign. We have had good response from our initial marking tests and expect to have to raise the price to keep supply limited."

Interested readers can visit <http://www.freewebsitetraffic.info/> and get a copy of this ground-breaking software before the price increase, scheduled for early June.

###

Contact Information

Wes Lund

251-342-6370

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.