

MidWest JeepThing 8th Annual Jeep Show

MidWest JeepThing is having our 8th Annual Jeep Show on June 11th.

Fenton, MO (PRWEB) May 25, 2005 -- Rocks will tremble and mud will fly for the sake of a good cause this summer.

The Midwest JeepThing is hosting their 8th annual Jeep Show, Saturday, June 11th, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Proceeds will benefit Support Dogs, a national not-for-profit organization aimed at training dogs for those with handicaps and providing therapy.

Events such as the Rate of Travel Index (RTI) ramp, tire bowling, reverse steering and others will take place at the Stratford Bar and Grill located in Fenton, Missouri. Jeeps ranging from the old Wagoneers, Jeep trucks and CJs, to newer Wranglers, Cherokees and Grand Cherokees will compete for best in show in their various classes. Even the dirtiest Jeep will cruise away a winner. Raffle prizes and show awards will be given away at 4:00 P.M.

The Midwest JeepThing is an organization of Jeep enthusiasts who have banded together in an effort to promote the love of Jeeps, community involvement and friendly use of the great outdoors. With just over 300 of members, the club has been growing at an exponential rate since its foundation in 1997. Trail runs are always on members' minds, but the club also participates in adopt-a-highway, blood drives and forest cleanup. Even Boy and Girl Scouts of America have hosted the MWJT recently.

Expectations are mounting for this year's show; Nelly's tricked out Jeep made it last year, and Beaufoot, a Jeep owned by Beau Vighn of 93.7 the Bull will be in attendance this year. The club's sponsors Axleboy, Reuthers Jeep, Rockport Off Road Park, and others are bringing out their respective product or Jeeps to make a dent in the off-road market.
