Adam Wilcox to return to the 2005 British GT Championship driving with Vision Marketing alongside Phil Burton in a Ferrari F360 GT

(PRWEB) June 4, 2005 -- After winning the Cup Class in 2004 at Brands Hatch, Adam Wilcox returned to the Championship for what seems to be a one-off with Vision Marketing. However, having two solid races finishing in sixth and eighth, Wilcox said after the weekend. "I enjoyed coming back to the Championship and getting back into a GT car. I am pleased that I will now remain with Vision Marketing in the #12 Ferrari F360 GT for the rest of the 2005 British GT season.

"I think Vision Marketing are a fantastic team and equally as good as any of the top teams in the British GT Championship in GT2 or GT3. We need to do a little work with the set-up of the car to get some more speed out of it, but we think we now know which direction to follow. We will be able to challenge for podium results if not better very soon.

"Driving with Phil Burton was really good. He is a real motivated character and very keen to keep improving on his driving style, I am sure by the end of the year myself and Phil, and the team will be well up to speed."
