

AutoClaims Direct Releases Appraisal Weblog

AutoClaims Direct releases industry weblog and job board.

Scottsdale, AZ (PRWEB) December 15, 2005 -- AutoClaims Direct Inc, the nation's leading independent auto damage appraisal firm today announced the release of ACD Weblog. As the only web community dedicated to auto damage appraising, ACD has created a meeting place, training center, job board and discussion group for those in the industry to connect.

“The auto damage appraisal industry today is very inconsistent when it comes to appraisal quality and use of technology.” States Regional Auditing Manager Cathi Martin. “Our ACD Blog will offer IAAs, adjusters and those in the appraisal industry a location and source in which to exchange ideas, ask questions and further promote quality work within our industry.” Added Martin

The ACD Blog allows independent appraisers to post resumes, search for job openings, ask opinions, receive feedback and network. In addition to the ACD Blog, the company will be rolling out a new full service Appraisal Product Center early 2006 in which everything needed for the job will be available at reduced costs. Laptop computers, pocket rods, cameras, scene investigation kits and much more can be purchased at discounted rates. There is no other comprehensive source dedicated to auto damage appraising that exists in the industry.

AutoClaims Direct is a business service and auto appraisal firm that provides the insurance industry with a complete claims management service and auto appraisal company. AutoClaims Direct's clients are insurance companies, fleet management companies and third party administrators. AutoClaims Direct's revolutionary "DirectLink/AutoClaims Tracker" application streamlines the claims handling process, rapidly reducing cycle times and average loss paid. The corporation handles auto appraisals, desk audits and lease returns.
